

GREGOR. Was he just talking about me? You like him, don't you? Better than me, right? Admit it . . . I would give up all my wealth and powers if I could be the hero. I wouldn't have to wear this dumb outfit . . . people would applaud when I come on. You're not even listening to me, are you? All you care about is getting those two kids together . . . I hope it's raining when you leave here. (He starts to leave. LEON rushes onstage.)
